

CODE OF ETHICS

The construction profession relies upon a system of technical competence, management excellence, and fair dealing to serve the public with safety, efficiency, and economy. Each member of the association is committed to following the Standards of Professional Conduct:

1. A member shall maintain full regard to the public interest in fulfilling his or her professional responsibilities.
2. A member shall not engage in any deceptive practice, or in any practice that creates an unfair advantage for the member or another.
3. A member shall not maliciously or recklessly injure, or attempt to injure, the professional reputation of others.
4. A member shall insure that when providing a service that includes advice, such advice shall be fair and unbiased.
5. A member shall not divulge to any person, firm, or company, information of a confidential nature acquired during the course of professional activities.
6. A member shall carry out his or her responsibilities in accordance with current professional practice.
7. A member shall keep informed of new concepts and developments in the construction process appropriate to the type and level of his or her responsibilities.

RCA and Its Members Give Back: Scholarships

RCA's Scholarship Program was established in 1997 to provide a mechanism for RCA members to give back and develop the leaders of tomorrow by encouraging and supporting college students pursuing careers in the construction industry. RCA members are encouraged to make a contribution when they renew their membership and those funds are earmarked for scholarships for deserving students. The program has awarded over 300 scholarships and is fully funded by RCA member companies who have donated more than $500,000. These scholarships have an impact on the student recipients, RCA member companies, and the industry as a whole.

I would like to extend my greatest thanks and appreciation for the generosity you have shown by awarding me with a scholarship. As I continue to study Construction Management I will strive to do my best and make your generous contribution to my education well used. As many of us know, the cost of higher education continues to rise and receiving this scholarship significantly reduces the financial burden faced by my family. It is a wonderful blessing that tenured individuals within the construction industry are so willing to give back and positively impact the life of a future industry member. I look forward to completing my degree, beginning a career in construction, and someday having the ability to contribute to the education of another aspiring student just as you have done for me.

George (Jimmy) Kost
University of Washington

John and Sherry Elder flank Joel Demers, the first recipient of the Christian Elder Memorial Scholarship. Joel is majoring in construction management at Minnesota State University-Mankato.

There are currently three types of scholarships awarded by RCA: General, Internship and Christian Elder Memorial Scholarships.

General Scholarships

RCA's Scholarship Committee has liaisons with 19 schools nationwide. Each year, these schools receive a $1,500 scholarship to award to an undergraduate student of Construction Science, Construction Management, Building Construction, Construction Technology, or similar academic discipline. Scholarship recipients must demonstrate a declared interest in pursuing a career in commercial construction following graduation and be enrolled as a full-time student during the time he/she receives scholarship assistance. These students must be in good academic standing, defined as a 3.0 GPA in the major and a 2.5 overall, when selected and throughout the time he/she is receiving scholarship assistance.

It means a lot to me to have your financial support as I pursue my degree in Construction Management. Throughout my undergraduate studies at UNL, I have become involved in many student organizations that have played a vital role in my education and involvement on campus. Last year I served as the president for our Associated General Contractors student chapter. I am also an active member of the Delta Eta Chapter of Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Cocktail Hour at CCS

RCA hosted its second annual cocktail hour in conjunction with the 2008 Commercial Construction Show (CCS) in Orlando, FL. Organized by Trade Show co-chairs and RCA "Party Planners," Kent Moon and Chandler Weekes, the event was a success.

Taking advantage of the opportunity to mix and mingle were Construction Managers, Architects, and Contractors, all discussing the issues that are critical to our industry. What a great way to introduce new people to the benefits and mission of the RCA.

Since the committee believes in practice makes perfect, they are gearing up for next year, and plan to make it the best, yet.

Special thanks to Cynthia Owens of Weekes Construction for her hard work in planning the event.

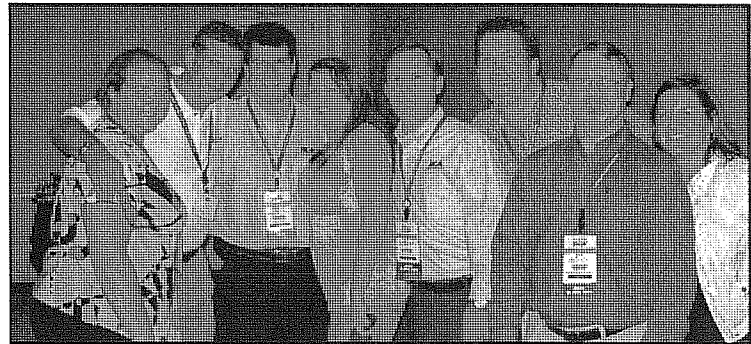

The cocktail hour brought together contractors and retailers for networking in a casual, comfortable atmosphere.

Scott Winstead

Scott is a principal and consulting team leader with FMI's Consulting Practice. His interest in helping organizations grow and improve has led him to work with contracting organizations of all types and size throughout the United States. His areas of expertise include strategy development and implementation, target marketing and financial planning. Clients seek Scott's insight, understanding and creativity in helping drive sustainable, profitable growth strategies through their respective organizations.

Scott's personable style, analytical approach and knowledge of the construction industry have enabled him to develop long-term relationships with his clients. He has helped numerous clients develop and execute practical strategic plans resulting in improved financial performance, competitive position and teamwork. Prior to joining FMI, Scott worked with Bank of America's commercial banking group as an analyst and loan officer. Scott's former role uniquely positions him to analyze his client's financial position and recommend solutions that balance short-term needs with long-term corporate strategies.

Scott has authored numerous articles on strategy and has been published in several industry publications. Scott received his Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology with a business administration minor and his master of business administration from East Carolina University, where he is a member of the Construction Management School's Advisory Board.

Chuck Barnes
Barnes & Associates

Chuck Barnes

Chuck started his retail construction and store planning career in 1988 as a project manager at McCrory/Newberry Stores, a chain of consumer value "5 & dime" stores based in York, PA. The year 1992 saw his move to multi-divisional retail giant Melville Corporation in Rye, NY as Director of Construction. While at Melville, Chuck had his first interactions with RCA, the then fledgling professional affiliation of retail general contractors. Chuck stayed at Melville until the announcement of its impending corporate divestiture in 1995, when he was recruited to head the construction and store planning group at start-up retailer Zany Brainy in Philadelphia, PA. After a short one year stint with ZB, Chuck founded G.C. Barnes & Associates in 1996, and relocated back to York in 1999. A construction management and tenant coordination consulting company, Barnes & Associates provides outsourced retail project management, retail development services, and tenant coordination services to a wide variety of national retailers, restaurant chains, and retail developers.

Chuck's professional affiliations include a long relationship with Chain Store Age Magazine and the SPECS conference, where Chuck was a member of the Specialty Retail Advisory Board from 1993 to 2002, and ICSC membership.

Chuck was educated in the state university system in Pennsylvania, awarded both Bachelor of Arts and Master of Science degrees from Shippensburg University.

On the personal side, Chuck resides in York County, PA with his wife Cindi, their two children, dogs and cats. Chuck's hobbies include fly-fishing, shooting sports, and the tending of his small, but fruitful Cabernet vineyard.

First awarded in spring 2008, RCA's Internship Scholarship follows the same guidelines as General Scholarships. Recipients are nominated by the RCA member company with which they complete an internship and the scholarship committee may select up to two recipients for this award annually.

Christian Elder Memorial Scholarship

This program was established in memory of Christian Elder, son of RCA past president and charter member John Elder. Christian died in 2007 at the age of thirty eight and was a project manager with Elder-Jones, Inc. Dedicated funds contributed to this scholarship are awarded to a student at the University of Minnesota-Mankato in Christian's name.

Inaugural Internship Scholarship Recipient

Matthew Brecker, De Jager Construction

Matthew Brecker is a dedicated, hard-working individual. In addition to working fulltime, he also maintains a full class load at Ferris State University. He is working towards his degree in Construction Management and plans to graduate in May of 2009. While this makes his schedule very busy he still manages to find time to enjoy a round of golf and also play on the work softball team. Matthew is also engaged and will be getting married this August and is busy making the final plans for the upcoming wedding.

Since his internship, Matthew accepted full time employment at De Jager Construction and is working in the sub-bid department. He is responsible for contacting subcontractors to see if they are interested in submitting proposals on projects that De Jager is bidding. This involves researching a subcontractor database and determining which subcontractors are the best fit for each type of project. He also spends a great deal of time on the phone with these contractors to explain the scope of work involved in each project. After a project has bid he is also responsible for communicating bid results to the subcontractors. In the short time that Matthew has held this position he has become a leader and also provides assistance as needed to the others in this department.

Matthew is also involved in processing revisions. Along with the Project Manager he determines which trades need to be sent out for revised pricing. As Matthew continues to develop on a professional level it will be exciting to see how De Jager will be able to use him in a Take-Off position and eventually as a Project Manager.

This scholarship will allow me to fully concentrate on my school work instead of having to worry about getting a job as well. Being able to focus on school will help me in my career and allow me to fully participate, engage, and concentrate on getting the most out of my education, benefiting me and getting me ready for the real world. Majoring in construction management will hopefully allow me to achieve my career goal of becoming a project manager for a major commercial construction company.
