RCA's Celebrates Silver Anniversary in Las Vegas

RCA's 25th annual conference was held March 13-15, 2016, at the Venetian/Palazzo in Las Vegas, NV, prior to SPECS 2015. With over 180 registered attendees, this was the most well-attended conference to date. Fifty member companies were represented, and all surviving RCA past presidents were represented.

The weekend included a welcome reception on Friday, a full day of presentations on Saturday, and an owner's breakfast Sunday morning. This year, to commemorate RCA's silver anniversary, a special offsite reception and dinner were held on Saturday.

The first conference speaker was Peter E. Strniste, Jr., a Partner at the law firm of Robinson & Cole LLP. His presentation was titled, "Managing Risks Associated with Construction Projects," and focused on subcontractor defaults and other issues. Peter discussed how lien laws vary from state to state, and provided examples of essential contract language for lien removal, joint checks, right to evidence of payment, trust fund provisions, payment use restriction, and assignment prohibition. He reviewed bankruptcy considerations in the case of owner, contractor, or subcontractor bankruptcy. Peter wrapped up his remarks with a discussion on considerations for both performance and payment bonds.

We welcomed back Anirban Basu, Chairman & CEO, Sage Policy Group, Inc., for an economic update. His remarks, titled "The Pit and the Pendulum," were both in-depth and entertaining. He discussed the economic trends – financial, real estate, energy, and labor markets – that affect the retail and construction sectors.

Roundtables provided attendees with opportunities for open forum discussions on a range of topics: enhancing retailer/GC relationships; subcontractor issues & solutions; how to recruit, train, and retain quality people; improving processes and eliminating waste (Lean Construction); mobile technology tools; and safety challenges in retail construction. We also featured roundtables on the history of the RCA, moderated by past presidents Bill Winkel and Bob Benda.

One of the highlights of the conference was a brief presentation by Dan Villareal, a superintendent at Commercial Contractors, who was the first hire through RCA's Military Service Initiative. His first experience with construction was in the military, and he's been building on that skillset with support and training from Commercial Contractors. Dan expressed his gratitude for the opportunities provided by Ken and Sandy Sharkey. He took some questions RCA's mission is to promote professionalism and integrity in retail construction through industry leadership in education, information exchange, and jobsite safety.

President's Message: State of the Association

Mike Wolff, President, Timberwolff Construction, Inc.

At the RCA's 25th Annual Conference in March, in Las Vegas, I had the opportunity to update attendees on the state of the association. I'd like to share with you some of the information I presented at the conference.

At our 2015 conference, we had a record breaking 188 registrants. That topped the previous record, in 2014, of 148 attendees. With the celebration of our silver anniversary, membership growth, and a great line up of presentations, we were able to attract 40 more people this year than last.

After a significant dip in membership due to the recession, we have seen steady growth over the past few years. With the new members approved at the March Board meeting, we have 78 members. With 50 member companies registered for the conference, we had 64% of members represented – that's an attendance percentage that makes other associations jealous!

Our membership committee meets monthly to discuss membership recruitment efforts and our member benefits committee continues to add new benefits, making the decision to join an easy one. If you know a qualified GC that would be a good fit for the RCA, send the information to info@retailcontractors.org.

This past year, we reviewed our scholarship program, which has been in place since 1998. For many years, we had been awarding scholarships to 13 schools. This year, we expanded the program with a nationwide call for scholarships to 35 schools and with postings to online scholarship databases. Our general criteria remains the same: recipients must be full-time, rising junior or senior, enrolled in a Construction Management program at an accredited 4-year university, but we increased the GPA requirements and requested personal statements to make the selection process more competitive. Twenty applications were received this year; 11 $1,500 scholarships were awarded (you can learn more about our recipients in our Fall newsletter).

We continue to work to improve our communications. We have relationships with Chain Store Age and Commercial Construction & Renovation (CC&R); each publication runs 3 full-page ads a year for us. We focus these ads on member recruitment, retailer awareness, and the national conference. We will also again publish a RCA Member Directory, to be inserted into the November/December issue of CC&R. RCA will coordinate and present a panel at the CC&R Summit in San Antonio in January 2016.

In December 2014, RCA hosted its first member/retailer reception during Centerbuild. The event was well-received and we plan to continue to host it, offering members another opportunity to network with each other and potential clients. Save the date for December 2!

As we look forward to our next milestone anniversary, the RCA Board remains committed to developing new programs and benefits to assist members in the success of their businesses and provide the most value for their dues investment:

- RCA's Home Depot Rebate Program offers members and preferred subcontractors a 2% rebate on all purchases. Last year, RCA program participants received a collective total of $276,089; the average rebate check was $2,437.
- Extended Stay America gives RCA members a 15% discount on lodging, in addition to any other negotiated discounts. Last year, RCA members collectively saved $286,545.
- Blue Book University offers RCA members a 20% discount on construction and business classes, 10% off safety classes and bookstore purchases, and free architecture classes on BlueBookUniversity.com.
- RCA's Military Service Initiative, where transitioning service members are recruited as superintendents, is an extension of our members' HR departments, helping them find qualified field staff. The committee is working on expanding the program to project managers and estimators.
- Chain Store Age and SPECS offer RCA members a discount to the Annual SPECS event (in 2015, this discount was $550 off the early registration rate) and allows RCA members to sign up two additional attendees (other GCs are limited to one additional attendee).

We will soon be announcing details of our newest member benefit, a partnership with Safety Meetings Outlines. Each RCA member will be automatically enrolled to receive monthly updates with information to be used to conduct weekly safety meetings and educate staff.

Having just celebrated RCA's 25th anniversary, I've had the opportunity to reflect on what this organization means to our members and the industry. It's an exciting time to be part of the RCA!

Mike

New Advisory Board Member

Ken Christopher

RCA's Advisory Board is comprised of representatives from retail markets including specialty, big box, department stores, developers, architecture/engineer, and restaurant retailers. Advisory Board members are appointed by the President and serve three year terms. During that time, they actively assist the RCA Board of Directors in identifying key industry issues and formulating policies and programs designed to positively impact those issues. Meet RCA's newest Advisory Board member.

Ken Christopher is Project Manager, Store Design & Construction at LBrands. An international company, LBrands sells lingerie, personal care and beauty products, apparel, and accessories through Victoria's Secret, Pink, Bath & Body Works, La Senza, and Henri Bendel. The company operates more than 2,900 company-owned specialty stores in the U.S., Canada and the United Kingdom. Ken joined LBrands in 1992.

Ken has over 35 years of experience in the construction industry. Prior to LBrands, he was a Project Manager at Herbert & Boghosian, Inc., a general contractor. In the 1980s he owned a design-build general contracting company.

Ken is a member of ICSC. He is an active volunteer in Columbus, OH. He is on the Board of Directors of Columbus Housing Partnership (CHP), a nonprofit organization that provided affordable housing for low income families. He serves on CHP's Asset Management Committee and Real Estate Committee. He also serves on the Advisory Board of the Greater Columbus Community Helping Hands, which provides services, programs, and activities that enhance educational opportunities for youth.

Ken has over 35 years of experience in the construction
industry.
He's been at LBrands for 13 years.

Giving Back: RCA Members Improving Their Communities

JG Construction

By Jennifer Danquist Kilgore, Director of Business Development & Marketing, Singleton Construction, LLC

"We make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give." - Winston Churchill

Members of the Retail Contractors Association are high caliber retail contractors united to provide a solid foundation of ethics, quality, and professionalism within the retail construction industry. But our members are not just building stores around the country; they are also giving back through a variety of public service efforts. In this new feature series, we'll share how our members are making a difference in their local communities.

JG Construction is a family-owned, full-service construction company established in 1979 and headquartered in Chino, CA. Jack and June Grothe, over the last 35 years, have built their company with a strong commitment to work as a team to provide quality, professionalism, and—most of all—satisfaction to their clientele.

Boys & Girls Before

Boys & Girls After

Jack Grothe, Executive Officer, talks about the company's commitment in their community. "We support the local kids softball and little league teams and we've done some work with the local Ronald McDonald House," Grothe states. "One particular project of which we are very proud is the work we've done with the local Boys & Girls Club."

The Boys & Girls Club of Pomona Valley needed a new team center. The original bid to do the work was $100,000, which was much more than their budget could bear. JG Construction was able to put together a team of employees and subcontractors and complete the project in eight weeks for $40,000.

Grothe describes the team effort to make the new center a reality: "We donated our Project Manager and Site Superintendent's time. We were also able to get our subcontractors to donate labor and a few even donated materials. Our electrical subcontractor donated everything but the fixtures.

"The joy and appreciation we see on the faces of the staff and the boys and girls that enjoy the club every day makes it all worth it. After the work was completed, our team attended Boys & Girl Club's annual event. We had a table there, and at each place setting was a thank you plaque," Grothe shared. The JG Construction team continues to support the club and attends this event each year.

We know that RCA members are building up communities all over the country, but it is what we do to improve and grow the spirit of our local neighborhoods that makes a difference. Thank you to the JG Construction family for helping to improve the lives of the boys and girls in your community; they are the future!

from the audience about his service, and received a standing ovation at the end of his presentation.

The final session of the day was a Retailers Panel, made up of RCA Advisory Board members Mike Glaser, Signet Jewelers Ltd; Jason Miller, JC Penney, Larry Tureff, Ulta, Inc., and Raj Singh, H&M. The panel discussed the state of the industry and trends they are seeing, such as de-malling, mall upgrades and reinvestment, reuse of traditional mall space for untraditional retailers, capital projects and reinvesting, right sizing, competition for retail spaces, GCs declining bids, and the influx of new vendors/startup companies. They discussed current performance as well as plans for the coming year.

After the conference, attendees were bussed to TPC Summerlin, a private, PGA-tour golf club, for a special 25th anniversary dinner event. During an outdoor reception, Marilyn Monroe and Rat Pack impersonators mingled with guests as the sun set over the golf course. During the dinner program, some lucky attendees were serenaded with Marilyn Monroe's rendition of "Happy Birthday." RCA President Mike Wolff recognized all of the organization's past presidents and thanked them for their leadership, support, and vision. Following dinner, there was music by the by the hEARd Matthews Band, featuring RCA Past President Art Rectenwald.

The weekend concluded Sunday morning with an owner's breakfast, moderated by RCA Vice President Bob Moore. The session was an open, confidential discussion of the challenges facing retail construction companies. Each participant shared his or her top challenges, and also offered suggestions and solutions for issues that others were facing.

The RCA Annual Meeting planning efforts were led by chair Rick Winkel, Winkel Construction, Inc. Save the date for RCA's 26th annual conference, March 11-13, 2016, at the Hilton Anatole in Dallas, TX.
